Referee Suits. As much of the litigation of the present day is necessarily left to referees, we give the following anecdote, connected with a funny case many years since, as illustrating the satisfaction with which the decisions in such cases are often received :--The case took place in the town of Charlemont, in this State; and as all the parties are long since dead, we shall give the names in full. One Mr. Giles, a man of strong natural sense, and endowed with more than a common share of wit and sarcasm, was frequently before the courts in matters of civil suit. The patience of the courts having become exhausted, they turned Giles' cases over to referees.

On the occasion to which we refer, the referees were Deacon White, Squire Taylor and Capt. Rudd,-three of the most prominent men in the town. The case was a perplexing one, and oc-cupied a considerable time, resulting at last in a decision adverse to Giles. When this decision was reached, and it became necessary to call in the parties, good Deacon White arose and said,

"My friends, we are all aware of the impet-uous character of brother Giles, and we must expect to hear much strong denunciation and personal abuse; let us be contented with having done our duty, and receive his abuse in a christian spirit.' The door was then opened, and brother Giles was called for with the other parties. Deacen White announced the decision thus:

" Brother Giles, we have sat long and patiently on this case : we have endeavored to do our duty ; and we have viewed the whole matter-(we trust prayerfully)-and regret that our sense of justice and right compels us to decide against you.' Then followed the delivering of the papers the bill of costs, &c., and the referees reclined back in their chairs to await the expected storm. Giles-who, when occasion suited, could be the most polite of gentlemen,—stepped back with quiet dignity and ease, lifted his hat and bowed very graciously in acknowledgement of the arduous services of the referees, and retired towards the door,-they meanwhile, feeling an intense inward satisfaction that the storm had blown GREEN CORN, FRESH APPLES, over. But, alas! it was a calm before a tempest, and the returning form of old Giles re-appeared through the half-closed door. Placing his hat upon the table, he thus addressed the referees : " Gentlemen, I have one duty to perform, unpleasant, but one which, as a philanthropist, I deem necessary. " Gentlemen, you suffered thus far through life, by not having any one to tell you your real characters. I will do it, that you may hereafter "First-Deacon White, you are a representative of that class of which the world is full, and which the world despise-you are a hypocrite. You will kneel beside your brother in prayer, and in the act, rob him of his wallet; you—I despise. "You, Squire Taylor, belong to another class, not so numerous. You are a professed scoundrel, you cheat a man and then laugh at him. I admire you, for I always know where to find youyou are open and bold in iniquity.

" And, as for-(pointing his finger and with a look of ineffable scorn)—Capt Rudd, you are an old fool to be nosed about by two such precious scoundrels as Deacon W. and Squire T.

Queen Victoria and the Royal Family. Rev. H. Bailies, who is writing a series of letters from England to the Zion's Herald, draws the following picture of Queen Victoria and the It differs from that generally pre sented of her Majesty. The picture was taken at Ascot races. It is well the artist delayed drawing it until after he was off British soil. He says " Having been disappointed by a slow train in reaching the place in season to see the Queen and her husband and children enter. I determined to get as near her Majesty as possible, and succeeded in getting into a small enclosure just in front of her stand, which enclosure, I have reason to think from a notice, was designed only for 'members of the Jockey Club.' It was a very good place, however, and for an hour or two I had the most favorable opportunity of looking at and quizzing the Queen, Prince Albert, Prince of Wales. Princess Alice, Helen and Louise, together with her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Cambridge, the Count of Flanders, Prince Louis of Hesse, in all, eleven carriage loads of royality and nobility "Prince Albert is a good, wide awake, sensible looking man, familiar and easy, and fit for a husband to a queen, which he is, and only is. The Prince of Wales is about eighteen, of light complexion and rather spare; looks like a fair senior in college, and will graduate at Oxford some time in June. The Princesses resemble strongly the Prince of Wales, and are not especially noticeable for beauty; indeed, I should not | Men's Calf Boots, have looked at them a single minute were they not daughters of the throne. As to the other personages, I saw nothing that would attract attention. There were a thousand on the field better looking, and to all appearances equally sensible I suppose it does not require much sense to patronize horse-racing, does it? Well, what of the Queen? I am not in England, and so I may speak. Understand, I was within from twenty to sixty feet of her more than an hour, looking at her with my own natural eyes, and with the same eyes assisted by powerful race-glases, which I borrowed. Let me say, then, et 25, for N Z ... Before I express my thinkings, however, let me remind you that very recently the Queen refused to sit for a likeness to an American artist, because she said her time is fully employed. This is not the reason, as you will guess. Queen Victoria is doubtless a mother of several children. and is said to be an excellent wife, mother and woman, which is likewise doubtless; but she is not handsome, as some of her portraits represent her; she is not good looking even, according to my taste. That kissable little mouth you have seen in her portraits was borrowed, for it is not in her face. Her mouth is rather drawn at the corners, and arched in the centre. Her complexion is that I have named for her children; but her skin looks blotched and unhealthy. I especially watched her manners in her conversation and her movements among the family and visiting royality, and I must say she was entirely wanting in what is termed grace, and was certainly very far from appearing queenly, according to the conventional meaning of that word. When she bowed in response to the hearty cheers of her loyal subjects, there was a look of the disdainful attached to a stiff and cheerless motion of the head. I was for a moment within ten feet of her, and noticed the same expression. "Speaking with a gentleman in Paris about her the other day, he remarked, ' O, she does very well for a Queen to fill the throne; she makes a good mother and wife, that is about all." More than once I heard this sentiment expressed. The portraits you see are the portraits of the Conventional Queen, and not the real."-Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

Velvet Mats Character is Power. Benjamin Franklin attributed his success as a public man, not to his talents or his powers of speaking-for these were but moderate-but to his known integrity of character. "Hence it was," he says, "that I had so much weight with my fellow-citizens. I was but a bad speaker, never eloquent, subject to much hesitation in my choice of words, hardly correct in my language, and yet I generally carried my point." Character creates confidence in men in high stations, as . Painted and varnished. . Usual style. well as in humble life. It was said of the first Emperor Alexander of Russia, that his personal character was equivalent to a constitution. During the wars of the Fronde, Montaigne was the only man among the French gentry who kept his eastle gate unbarred; and it was said of him that NOW COMING IN FROM THE BREWER Plantation, Makawao, East Maui, and for sale by 214 q C. MRS. WINSLOW, An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the atte

SOOTHING SYRUP, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING, which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the grea, seducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodicaction SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS. We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and CAN SAY, IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it what we saver have been able to easy of any other medicine, —NEVER HAS IT FAHED, IN & SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when thusly used. Sever did we know an instance of disantisfaction by any one who ned it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues.

We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after on years' experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FUL-FILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is enfering from pain and enhanction, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered. This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EX-PERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in THOUSANDS OF CASES. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stemah and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not spedily remedied, and in death. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIAB-RHEA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any ether cause. We would say to every mother who has a child refering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR FREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between you and your suffering child, and the relief that will be SURE—yes ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. Ness gamnine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is
